Aims

The Careers and University Department seeks to:

- Elevate pupils’ ambitions, enabling them to make well-informed and realistic decisions about future career and study options whilst also encouraging them to be aspirational in their personal goals.
- To organise a programme of careers events to inspire and advise pupils, and to develop their understanding of work and careers.
- Provide careers guidance and support for pupils in planning their career and post-18 study options, including university and apprenticeship choices.
- Provide information, advice and guidance on careers, higher education, non-university options, further education choices, study abroad and gap years.
- Provide a point of referral for the pastoral teams when specialist careers and university advice is required.

Procedure

- Pupils across all years will cover careers topics in line with the PSHE Association recommendations and Gatsby Benchmarks as part of their timetabled tutor programme. The basis of these sessions is to introduce career ideas and encourage career planning. These lessons give pupils the knowledge and skills for planning and managing their future careers by:
  - Self-awareness – pupils learn about the career planning process, they reflect on their skills, values and qualities with respect to the world of work;
  - Self-development – pupils identify the key skills employers value and how they can develop them. They reflect on their abilities and areas for improvement. Pupils gain an understanding of the implications of making non-stereotypical occupational choices.
  - Careers exploration – pupils learn where to go for and how to evaluate reliable information. They identify and investigate appropriate career pathways and develop their understanding of the full range of education, training and employment options available to them both in school and elsewhere.
  - Careers management – pupils learn about LMI (Labour Market Information), where and how to research it and its importance when making career decisions. They learn the effects of changes in technology, economic and market trends and how to make suitable career development choices. Pupils develop skills in career planning, decision-making and how to manage transition.
